GENERAL INFORMATION

Academic

As a University student you are expected to attend classes regularly. Classes last for 50 minutes and begin on the hour.

There is no unlimited cut system at the University. At the beginning of the semester each of your instructors will tell you how he handles cuts. After three unexcused cuts, you will be reported to your dean, and your parents will be notified. Too many absences can influence your grade and, eventually, may cause you to fail a course.

If you wish to drop a course after the semester begins, you must secure permission from your advisor and your dean. If you do not drop the course before the time specified you will receive an F in the course.

Exams take place during the semester as well as during exam week. Each instructor decides how many hour exams, usually two or three, he will give. If you miss an exam you may take a make-up exam with the consent of your instructor and the payment of a $1.00 fee to the registrar.

Activities Book

During registration you pay an activities fee and an athletic fee. You receive an activities book containing numbered tickets. By presenting these tickets, accompanied by your ID card, you will be able to receive campus publications, and to attend all inter-collegiate sporting events, University Theater productions, dances, and all other campus activities open to the student body.

Board

All students living in the dorms are required to eat in the University Dining Hall. All other students may make their own arrangements.

"Terp Inn," located in the Student Union basement, is a handy place for that "coffee break" or mid-afternoon snack. On Sunday evenings inexpensive dinners are served in "Terp Inn."

There is a cafeteria on the lower floor of the Dining Hall where meals are reasonably priced.

Across from Rossborough Inn, the Dairy sells ice cream and dairy products. Other eating establishments also may be found in College Park.

Books and Supplies

Books and school supplies may be purchased in the Book Store of the Student Union and at the Maryland Book Exchange across from the South Gate. Both of these stores carry novelties, gifts and sports clothing. Also, the service fraternity, APO, sponsors the sale of used books in the Old Gym.

Communications

When you register, you will be assigned a post office box. You may share this with one or more students. The Post Office and boxes are located in the basement of the Student Union. Women will receive mail in their dormitories as well as in their post office box. Men may receive mail only in their post office boxes. Limited mailing facilities are available at the campus Post Office; however, the Post Office in College Park provides additional facilities.

Campus phones may be used before 4 P.M. to make campus calls. Other calls must be made on the pay phones located in the dormitories and various buildings. In order for a student to be reached, the University number, WArfield 7-3800, must be called. Then the operator will connect the call with the dormitory requested. Telegrams may be sent from the telephone exchange in the east end of the Education Building. Incoming telegrams are 'phoned or delivered to the residences.

Infirmary

All undergraduates may receive routine medical care from the infirmary located west of the Dining Hall. A staff of University doctors and nurses is on hand. You may use this facility whenever necessary.

Laundry

The University is not responsible for your laundry. There are washing machines and dryers in the dormitories. The women's dormitories have ironing boards, but students must supply their own irons. In addition, there are several commercial laundries in College Park.

Library

While we are welcoming you as a new student, we are also welcoming another new addition to the University! Sometime this year, a new Library will be opened. Situated on the mall, it will enable greater access to more books, and will have many advantages over the present library. Until its completion, the old Library will continue in service.

Lost and Found

You may turn in or recover articles at the campus police station located at the North Gate.

Parking and Traffic

If you intend to have a car on campus, it is imperative that you register it during registration. You will be assigned a parking lot and will be given a sticker to be displayed on the rear window of your car. You will also receive a list of parking and traffic regulations. These regulations are strictly enforced by campus police.

Anyone receiving a ticket and wishing to appeal his case may appear before the Traffic Appeals Board.

Publications Distribution

The Diamondback and Old Line are distributed in various buildings on campus. The Terrapin is distributed in May. Freshmen receive the M-Book during registration, and upperclassmen may purchase it in the Student Store.

Student Activities Building

The newly-dedicated Student Activities Building is the site of many sporting events, concerts, exhibitions and other activities. Seating 12,000, the building also contains a swimming pool, classrooms, and many sports facilities.

Student Directory

Each year a complete list of students' names and addresses is compiled in the form of the Student Directory. Phone numbers of all departments and buildings, Greek houses, and residences are listed. Also faculty names and addresses are given. The Directory is sold in the Student Union Book Store in the fall.

Student Employment

There are many jobs open to students on campus. Life-guarding, library work and reception work are only a few of the jobs offered. If you are interested in investigating job opportunities, check with the placement office in the Administration Building or the Dean of Women's office.

Student Union Building

The Center of extra-curricular life is the Student Union Building. Some of its features are "Terp Inn," the Snack Bar, the music-listening room, the study hall, and the Book Store. The Student Government and Associated Women Student's offices are located there, as well as meeting facilities for many other campus organizations. Also held in the Student Union are many dances, weekend movies, receptions and teas, and many cultural events.

Ticket Distribution

Tickets for musical and dramatic productions may be obtained at the University box office in the basement of the Student Union Building.

Transportation

Bus service is available to Washington, D. C., and Baltimore. Tickets may be bought in the Varsity Grill on the boulevard. "Daydodger" information will be on hand during registration.

What to Bring to College—COEDS

Obviously, like most girls, you want to know "what to bring to college." Many of the same things you needed at home will be necessary at the University of Maryland—but, don't bring everything. Your books and current wardrobe alone will take up every square inch of space, without having to harbor the collection of knick-knacks!

Plan your wardrobe carefully and to fit your budget. Wool skirts and sweaters are a perennial favorite. Cardigans and at least one blazer will provide interim weather warmth. Saddles still lead the field with sneakers running a close second. Of course, the cold-windy weather calls for an extra-warm and practical coat for class. For rainy weather a slicker and hat are your best bet.

And, of course, don't forget your dressy clothes, gloves and a hat for Sunday; dates call for something special in heels and hose and you will need a formal for those special dances. In the other extreme, a pair of bermudas will fit the bill for lounging and studying in the dorm or house.

Bring essential and practical items to college . . . to allow yourself plenty of time to enjoy the coming year.

What to Bring to College—MEN

A big headache for the student who plans to live on campus for the first time is the problem: what to bring to wear, and to furnish a room? Therefore, here are a few words of advice which may go a long way in helping the student living away from home for the first time.

It is a good idea to meet your roommate if this is at all possible. By talking it over with him, you can decide between yourselves what furnishings, such as radios and lamps, you will want to bring.

As for what kind of clothes to bring, this is somewhat up to the individual, a student is not told what to wear on the Maryland campus. However, students are advised to be sensible and practical in their dress; wearing the proper clothing for the occasion such as casual clothes for classes, sports clothes for football games, tie and coat to a play, and a suit or "tux" to a dance.

Both the black and the khaki-colored khakies with a shirt or a V-necked sweater and white bucks or saddles are a classroom favorite. The letter-award sweater earned in high school will not make you a B.M.O.C. with the young ladies . . . they may have meant something in high school but have little recognition value at Maryland.

HISTORY AND TRADITIONS

You are now entering into a phase of your life which you will always cherish. Your college memories will be among your happiest ones, but not merely because you are meeting many new people who share your problems, interests, and perhaps even your dormitory. Tradition plays an important part in recollections of college days. Long after you have forgotten the person who sat next to you in a class, or the class itself, you will remember the Chapel bells ringing every hour, marking each passing day. When you leave the classrooms for the last time, college days will be behind you, but they will always be with you. All of the experiences which make your days at Maryland University unique will be stored in your file of memories. They will attain an even greater stature as the years wipe away the few unpleasant recollections, and enrich your joyous moments. If you make the most of your opportunities now, your college days will be the happiest of your life. Just as the University gives you a fine educational background to use in the future attainment of your life's goals, it also provides a background for what can be your happiest moments.

History

The University of Maryland dates back to 1807, when the first school of the University, the College of Medicine, was founded in Baltimore. During the 150 years since its founding, the University has expanded, both physically and scholastically, until it now occupies a position as one of the leading universities in the country.

After the College of Medicine was founded, there followed within a few years the establishment of several other professional schools. The School of Law was added in 1823, the School of Dentistry in 1882, the School of Nursing in 1889, and in 1904, the Maryland College of Pharmacy.

At College Park, in 1856, Maryland Agricultural College, the first agricultural college in the United States and the second in the western hemisphere, was established on an estate purchased from Charles B. Calvert, Esquire. The college was financed by the sale of stock at $25 a share.

In 1862, this college became, in part, a state institution with the passage of the Morrill Land Grant Act by Congress. It was one of the first schools to benefit from this act and subsequent federal aids to education.

In 1920, the professional schools of the University in Baltimore, and the Maryland State College, as it was by then known, in College Park were merged to form what is now known as the University of Maryland. However, the University of Maryland is not limited by the College Park and Baltimore boundaries; it stretches overseas to virtually every part of the western world through the College of Special and Continuation Studies founded in 1949. The CSCS program is not a correspondence course; it consists of classroom courses taught by instructors who must be approved by the dean of their respective colleges in College Park.

Although much of the overseas program is directed toward military personnel, there is a Munich Day-time program for the sons and daughters of U.S. government, military, and civilian personnel in Germany.

In typical American classrooms, they earn credit at a fully accredited American college established overseas under the supervision of the dean of CSCS. The Munich students publish their own newspaper, The Continental Collegiate; their yearbook is not just plain Terrapin, but the Bavarian Terrapin.

CSCS also maintains a vast educational program in the state and surrounding area bringing the University to the four million square mile mark with over 150 sites.

Traditions

Maryland, because of its long history, is steeped in time-honored traditions worthy of one of the oldest universities in the United States. Students come and go, but traditions live on, an integral part of the college life of every person associated with the University of Maryland. . . .

The Chapel bells that chime "Maryland, My Maryland" every hour on the hour. . . .

The football season, during which studies express their enthusiasm in pep rallies, house decorations, fraternity parties, the frosh-sophomore tug-of-war over Paint Branch Creek, and the crowning of a queen. . . .

Testudo, the 500 pound bronze replica of this state's famous Diamondback Terrapin and the campus mascot, now permanently stationed at the entrance to Byrd Stadium. . . .

The name "Old Liners," now the title of the campus humor magazine, for which we can thank General George Washington at the Battle of Brooklyn during the Revolution when he said of the Maryland defenders, 'the Old Line will hold.' . . .

The Christmas pageant held after the lighting of a Christmas tree behind Rossborough Inn and the orphan party on Fraternity Row to celebrate the same season. . . .

The Kappa Alpha Minstrel in keeping with a great Southern tradition. . . .

The spring practices for the Phi Kappa Tau Barber Shop quartet contest and Tri Delt's Interfraternity Sing. . . .

The May Day festival highlighted by the crowning of the May Queen, the tapping of outstanding junior women by Mortar Board, and a pageant presented to entertain the queen. . . .

The annually exciting lacrosse game between Maryland and Johns Hopkins, one of our keenest rivals. . . .

The electioneering and campaign parades to solicit votes in the spring elections for student government and class offices. . . .

Your first trip to the "kissing tunnel" and the wishing well at Rossborough Inn to insure love and luck at college. . . .

The annual Honors and Awards Assembly held just before graduation in which recognition is given to scholarship, sports, ROTC, and other phases of University life. . . .

Tradition, our legacy as freshmen, we bequeath as seniors to those who shall search here for knowledge next year, or ten years from now, or to those of an age yet unborn.

UNIVERSITY SEAL

Maryland's Great Seal, the oldest of the state seals, was sent to the province of Maryland in 1648 by Lord Baltimore. More than 300 years old, the seal is the only state seal of strictly heraldic character.

The escutcheon bears the Calvert and Crosslands arms quartered. The first and fourth quarters are the Calvert Arms. The second, and third quarters are from the Crossland, Baltimore's maternal arms. An earl's coronet and full-faced helmet are surmounted on the quarterings. These indicate Lord Baltimore's rank in America. The Calvert crest rests on the helmet.

The escutcheon is supported on one side by the figure of a farmer, and on the other by that of a fisherman—symbols of each of Lord Baltimore's estates, Maryland and Avalon. Below the figures is the scroll bearing the Calvert motto: "Fatti Maschii Parole Femine," which means "Manly Deeds; Womanly Words". On the border encircling the seal is the legend: "University of Maryland . . . 1807 . . . 1865 . . . 1920.

Centennial and Sesquicentennial Celebrations

College of Agriculture 1856-1956 School of Medicine 1807-1957

May 17 1956

I am delighted to welcome you to the University of Maryland. You are beginning an important phase of your education and the record you make will follow you throughout your life.

The Administration, Faculty and Staff are here to help you but we can do only a part of the job, and we can do that part only as well as you want it to be done. The whole job depends, in a large measure, upon your capacity and application. Capacity is important, but assuming that most students have at least average ability, the deciding factor is application. The chances are very strong that you will succeed if you do a reasonable amount of work on a systematic basis. This is the student's responsibility.

Your years at the University should be pleasant and profitable. The best way to achieve these aims is to decide what you want and go after it.

Good luck!

FROM THE DEAN OF WOMEN

It is my happy privilege to extend to you the warmest sort of greetings, and a happy and cordial welcome to our University. College offers a multitude of opportunities. Among these are intelligent living, lasting friendships, and preparation for a happy, useful life. You will find Maryland a friendly place on the part of both students and faculty. The members of my department add their welcome to mine. We want to know you and want you to know us. So stop by our offices and get acquainted.

FROM THE DEAN OF MEN

Welcome to the members of the Class of 1960 and other new students. I am indeed happy that you have decided to join our fine student body and will study under our excellent faculty.

Feel free to ask questions of anyone on the campus as you will find the faculty, the administration, the staff, and upperclassmen willing to assist you.

Stop by my office at any time for a social visit or discussion of a problem.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

S. G. A.

The Student Government Association, the organization at the University of Maryland for self-government, is made up of three divisions, the Executive Council, the Men's League and Associated Women Students.

The Executive Council is the policy-making group composed of fifteen members. Among the many duties of this organization is to appropriate funds from the activity fees for dances, the University Theatre, student publications and other student activities. The Executive Council could be considered the liason between the faculty and the student body. The Executive Council meetings are held every Tuesday and are open to all students.

The Men's League and the Associated Women Students organizations are responsible for the enforcement of campus regulations.

Elections

Every spring, elections for S.G.A. and class officers are held. Primaries are held for offices for which three or more students are competing. Each candidate is required to have a 2.0 overall average.

Freshmen class elections are held in October and are open to all freshmen who secure petitions from the S.G.A. office and have the required number of freshman signatures prior to deadline.

Committees

The S.G.A. operates through committees, set up by the Executive Council and open to all students. Chairmanships are open to those who submit applications stating their qualifications and experience. Sub-committee chairmanships and committee members are chosen by the chairman on the basis of experience.

S.G.A. committees under the constitution are Ways and Means, Elections, Organization and Procedure and special committees, like Student Welfare, Social Affairs, Campus Improvement, Student Activities, Constitution, Campus Chest, Freshman Orientation, Homecoming, Dad's Day, Student Union Cultural Program, Public Relations, Traffic Appeals, Job Placement, and Who's Who.

The President of the Executive Council has already named the chairman for the following committes: Student Activities, Freshman Orientation, Homecoming, Dad's Day, Student Union, Traffic Appeals, and Campus Improvements. These Chairmen will hold office throughout the year. Some committees, like the Ways and Means, Campus Improvements and Elections committees require special knowledge of campus functions, organizations, and personalities and are not usually open to Freshmen, but the remaining groups welcome new members.

You, as a new student, may be appointed to any of these committees by submitting an application to the S.G.A. office during the first two weeks of school. State your qualifications and experience, campus or home address, and telephone number, and address the application to the chairman of the committees of your choice.

For class prom chairmanships watch the Diamondback for notices of when to apply. Homecoming and Dad's Day are two big fall projects and require a lot of planning and work. Applications for both of these committees will be accepted in the fall.

Let me take this opportunity to extend to you a hearty and sincere welcome to our campus at the University of Maryland. We think it is the best, and I'm sure that you will agree with us after you have settled down.

You are a member of the Student Government Association as soon as you become a student here. Our office in the Student Union Building is your office, too. We try to encourage all students to attend our meetings and take a part in governing themselves. This invitation is extended to you. We meet on Tuesday nights in the Student Union Building—try to be on hand. If I can be of any service to you, please do not fail to call on me.

May I wish you the very best of luck in your college career.

A.W.S. is the campus governing body for women students, which formulates and administers the standards of conduct and campus rules and is responsible for maintaining personal and group standards of behavior.

Daydodgers are just as much a part of A.W.S. as on-campus students. Any women interested in working on A.W.S. committees can sign up at registration or at the A.W.S. office any afternoon in the Student Union Building.

The Executive Council coordinates the activities of its subdivisions: the Residence Council, composed of dormitory and sorority house presidents; and Dormitory Council which is concerned with the problems of dormitory government and Executive Council policies affecting women's dormitories; the Judicial Board, governing board for campus women's regulations: and the Academic Board, responsible for encouraging high standards and stimulating intellectual activity.

Message from A.W.S. President

Hello and welcome to the University of Maryland!

We are very happy that you have chosen the U. of Maryland as the school in which you will further your education. We hope that your college experience here will be a satisfying one and that you will share fully in its activities.

The Associated Women Students is the campus governing body for all women students. Our office, located in the Student Union Building, is always open to you for assistance and suggestions. We hope that you, as a member of AWS, will take an interest and participate actively in our program of social, scholastic and cultural activities.

We are looking forward to seeing you, a University of Maryland coed and a new member of AWS.

The Men's League is an organization established for the purpose of promoting educational, cultural, social, and athletic welfare and interest of the men of the University of Maryland. It offers the men of the University of Maryland a chance to perpetuate the mutual benefits derived from life at the University, and a chance for them to present their problems and assist in their solution.

Represented on the League is the Dormitory Council, Interfraternity Council, Organizations Council, and the elected class representatives.

The Dormitory Council is composed of the presidents of the dorms and six proctors. This Council supervises the activities of the men's dormitories.

The Organizations Council represents the various clubs, and helps co-ordinate the work of the League with these groups to insure the mutual benefit of all students.

Canterbury Association

President ..... Calvin Spencer, Jr.
Vice-President ..... Dennis Collier
Secretary ..... Barrie Neal
Treasurer ..... Dick West

With a program of prayer, service, fellowship and study, the Canterbury Club fills the religious needs of the Episcopal students. Weekly Wednesday night programs at the Parish House of St. Andrew's Church in addition to Sunday night suppers in the Parish House make up a large part of their activities.

Canterbury offers one retreat a year and gives an annual Christmas party for the children of the Episcopal Home.

• ENTERTAINMENT

Tryouts, call back list, cast posted, rehearsals, blocking, interpretation, costume fittings, grease paint, stage crew, bright lights, opening night, critic's review, cast party equals UT production. Music clubs hoist entertainment curtain too . . .

Gymkana Troupe

President ..... Steck Brink
Vice-President ..... Chester Witten
Secretary ..... Jean Scott
Treasurer ..... Don Wagner
Advisor ..... Mr. George Kramer

Ten years ago a troupe was born. The Father, Dr. David A. Field, decided to name it "Gymkana" because it combined the characteristics of gymnastics and showmanship. It grew from a mere six members to its now impressive size of thirty. Gymkana obtained the nickname, "The Ambassadors of Good Will," through its extensive trips along the East Coast, Idaho, Montana, Bermuda, Iceland, and the Azores. It has also traveled to Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, and the Carolinas.

The purpose of the troupe is to promote entertainment, gymnastics, and leisure co-recreational activities among students of the University.

The surprising fact is that most of the members had no previous training before entering the troupe.

Modern Dance

President ..... Ellen Sue Marsh
Vice-President ..... Barbara Sapperstein
Sec'y-Treas. ..... Annette Dapp
Faculty Advisors ..... Prof. Dorothy Madden
Miss Mary Harrington

Topping the year off with an annual spring concert, the Creative Dance Group brings to students an opportunity to learn modern dance techniques.

Meetings are held on Tuesday evenings—the beginning group at 6 p.m. and the advanced at 7:15 p.m.

University Theater

President ..... Sam Gossage
Vice-President ..... Robert Milli
Sec'y-Treas. ..... Mary Chambers
Faculty Advisor ..... Prof. Warren Strausbaugh

This year a Laboratory Theater was created primarily for Freshmen, in which ten shows are given each semester. UT gives four major productions each year and also a spring picnic is held.

University Theater is open to all students, and experience is not necessary. Actors and technicians are constantly needed. A member, however must have worked on at least three shows on stage or behind the scenes. As its final outgoing production of the year UT combines with Clef and Key and stages an outstanding musical show. Meetings are held approximately once a month.

Clef and Key

President ..... Gwynneth Jones
Vice-President ..... Betty Munyon
Secretary ..... Jane Koethen
Treasurer ..... Jill Vasilyk
Faculty Advisor ..... Mr. Charlton Meyer

Clef and Key is an organization for students talented in music and is an outgrowth of the University of Maryland Opera Club. Each year this organization is co-sponsor with University Theater of the Spring Musical.

Meetings are held once a week on Tuesday. Tryouts for the Musical are open to nonmembers.

Chapel Choir

President ..... Daniel B. Johnson, Jr.
Vice-President ..... Charles Everline
Sec'y-Treas. ..... Patricia Colton
Faculty Advisor ..... Prof. Fague Springmann

The Chapel Choir's annual productions include the singing of the "Messiah" by Handel, "St. Matthew Passion" by Bach, and the "Creation" by Haydn. This year, two extra productions were given: "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, and the singing at the Easter Sunrise Services of Walter Reed Hospital in Washington. The latter was televised coast to coast. In the four years of existence of the Chapel Choir, there have been four coast-to-coast broadcasts and three appearances with the National Symphony Orchestra. Rehearsals are every Monday and Wednesday in the Memorial Chapel and interested students should sign up at the Armory during registration.

Men's Glee Club

President ..... William Balser
Vice-President ..... Harvey Coppel
Secretary ..... Paul Taylor
Treasurer ..... Garth Herbert
Faculty Advisor ..... Mr. Charles Haslup

Recently reorganized, the Men's Glee Club sang at the dedication of the Student Activities Building, Convocation, the Men's Glee Club Banquet, and the Rotary Dinner, as well as presenting their annual Spring and Fall Music Festivals this past year. The Club's constantly growing repertoire includes college songs, show tunes, spirituals, and semi-classical numbers. Anyone interested in joining should sign up during registration in the Armory or attend the meetings which are held Tuesday and Thursday in the Music Annex.

Red and White Band

President ..... Philip Hooks
Vice-President ..... Wilfred Froehlich
Secretary ..... Patricia Metz
Treasurer ..... Roland Swanson
Faculty Advisor ..... Prof. Hugh Henderson

The Red and White Band and its accompanying majorette corps bring color and school spirit to pep rallies, sports events and parades. It convenes in concert form for May Day and a spring concert.

Rehearsals are held twice a week in the Armory Band Room and on the field to practice music and precision drills. Students interested in band or majorette membership should register with this group in the Armory during registration.

Orchestra

President ..... Suzanne Hood
Vice-President ..... Phillip Hooks
Sec'y-Treas. ..... John Sandbeck
Faculty Advisor ..... Dr. Bryce Jordan

At least three concerts are planned for the 1956-57 year. This past semester, the Orchestra played for the Centennial-Sesquicentennial Celebrations, and also gave their own program. Students, faculty, and staff may join this organization which meets from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. every Tuesday in the Music Annex. In addition, Orchestra may be taken as a one-credit course.

Women's Chorus

President ..... Betty Spangler
Vice-President ..... Maria Kurtz
Secretary ..... Deborah Gude
Treasurer ..... Medora Graves
Faculty Advisor ..... Miss Louise Payler

The Women's Chorus is sponsoring a composer's contest, on a nation-wide basis, for an original selection to be sung by the Chorus this year. Last year's activities included a Christmas concert, the "Ceremony of Carols," May Day selections, a concert given at the Naval Academy, a Spring Concert, and a joint concert with the University Orchestra. They also rendered selections at the Convocation and sang at a dinner honoring Dean Adele Stamp. This year, they will record a group of "Maryland Songs." Rehearsals are held every Tuesday and Thursday in the Music Building and should be scheduled with the cards advisor.

Publications Board

The Publications Board promotes faculty-student cooperation on any problem which may arise in the various publications.

The Board consists of the chairman, Dr. John H. Frederick, head of Business Organization, and four other faculty members. The student members include: Roger Keith, Editor of the Terrapin; Dick Toth, Editor of the Diamondback; David Halliday, Editor of the Old Line; George Darlington, Station Director of WMUC; one student from the professional schools in Baltimore; and one student, not on publications, appointed by the SGA Executive council.

During the latter part of the spring semester, the Board appoints the Editor, Managing Editor, and Business Manager of the four publications for the following year. All students in a publications editorial position must have an overall average of 2.0 and a minimum 2.0 average in the semester of their appointment.

Pi Delta Epsilon Banquet

Pi Delta Epsilon, the National Journalism Honorary, highlights the end of each year with the Publications Banquet. The banquet, which is open to everyone, follows the initiation ceremonies for the spring Pi Delt tappees.

Immediately following the banquet is the annual presentation of awards and keys, giving recognition to the outstanding students in the various publications for the year. The Editors of the respective publications recognize the members of their staffs who have rendered outstanding service during the year. At this time, each Editor also introduces his successor.

The E. A. Coblentz Memorial Cup, given to the freshman who has done outstanding work during his first year in publications, is presented in honor of a former Diamondback business manager killed in Korea.

The senior who has contributed the most to publications during his four years is awarded the William H. Hottel award, which honors a former publications advisor.

National Pi Delta Epsilon medals of merit are awarded to the outstanding man and woman in journalism at the University.

Entertainment for the banquet is provided by skits produced by the staffs of each publication. Sometimes outside entertainment is invited to perform for the affair. Usually well-known speakers from the professional publications world are invited to speak for the banquet.

Panhellenic Council

President ..... Sonia Racusin
Vice-President ..... Mary Baker
Secretary ..... Roberta Haber
Treasurer ..... Alice Love
Rush Chairman ..... Beverly Max
Faculty Advisor ..... Mrs. Ruth Butwell

The Panhellenic Council, composed of representatives of the sixteen national sororities on campus, strives to promote close inter-sorority cooperation and to maintain high scholastic and social standards. The Council formulates and enforces rules governing rushing, pledging, and initiation, and sponsors the annual Pledge Dance, Panhel "Car Wash Day," and an Easter egg roll for orphans. This year, for the first time, Panhellenic Council is planning a weekend camping trip to acquaint pledges with the activities and opportunities available on campus. Panhellenic Council works closely with the Associated Women Students on problems relating to campus women and has one representative on AWS executive council to present the views of sorority women.

Junior Panhellenic Council

Junior Panhellenic Council is composed of one pledge from each sorority. Its purpose is to familiarize representatives with the functions of the Panhellenic Council and to discuss mutual problems and plans. Last spring Junior Panhel sponsored a conference concerning the aspects of social life, such as etiquette and parties.

Standard Panhellenic Rules

Any women eligible for matriculation at the University of Maryland and unaffiliated with any National Panhellenic Fraternity is eligible for rushing.

Rushing is held at the beginning of each semester. Second semester rushing will take place in February. Informal rushing follows the formal rushing periods and lasts up to a council-set date.

There is a silence period which extends from the beginning of formal rushing to pledging and applies to all sorority women and rushees. During this period they may not converse at any time other than at registered rush functions.

A pledgeship expires one calendar year from the date of pledging, at which time the student is eligible to pledge another sorority. This rule is binding to any campus to which the student may matriculate.

Initiation of any pledge results from the completion of fifteen credit hours in the preceding semester at the University of Maryland with a 2.2 average and no failures for that semester. These women must be students in good standing.

The IFC, which is composed of representatives of the national campus fraternities, strives to promote and maintain friendly and cooperative relations between the various fraternity groups.

The Council sponsors the fraternity athletic program, the Interfraternity Ball, Greek Week, the Interfraternity Pledge Council and the magazine, Fraternity Way. The Council presents awards for participation in campus activities and scholastic achievement and organizes and supervises the fraternity rushing program each semester.

Fraternity rushing will formally open in September with a meeting of the Council for all men interested in pledging a fraternity.

The Pledge Council

The Interfraternity Pledge Council is under the direct supervision of the IFC and is reorganized every semester with each new pledge class.

The pledges from each fraternity meet twice a month to plan a pledge project that will be of service to the University or community, discuss their mutual problems and receive information from their advisor that will help them to be better fraternity men and future fraternity leaders.

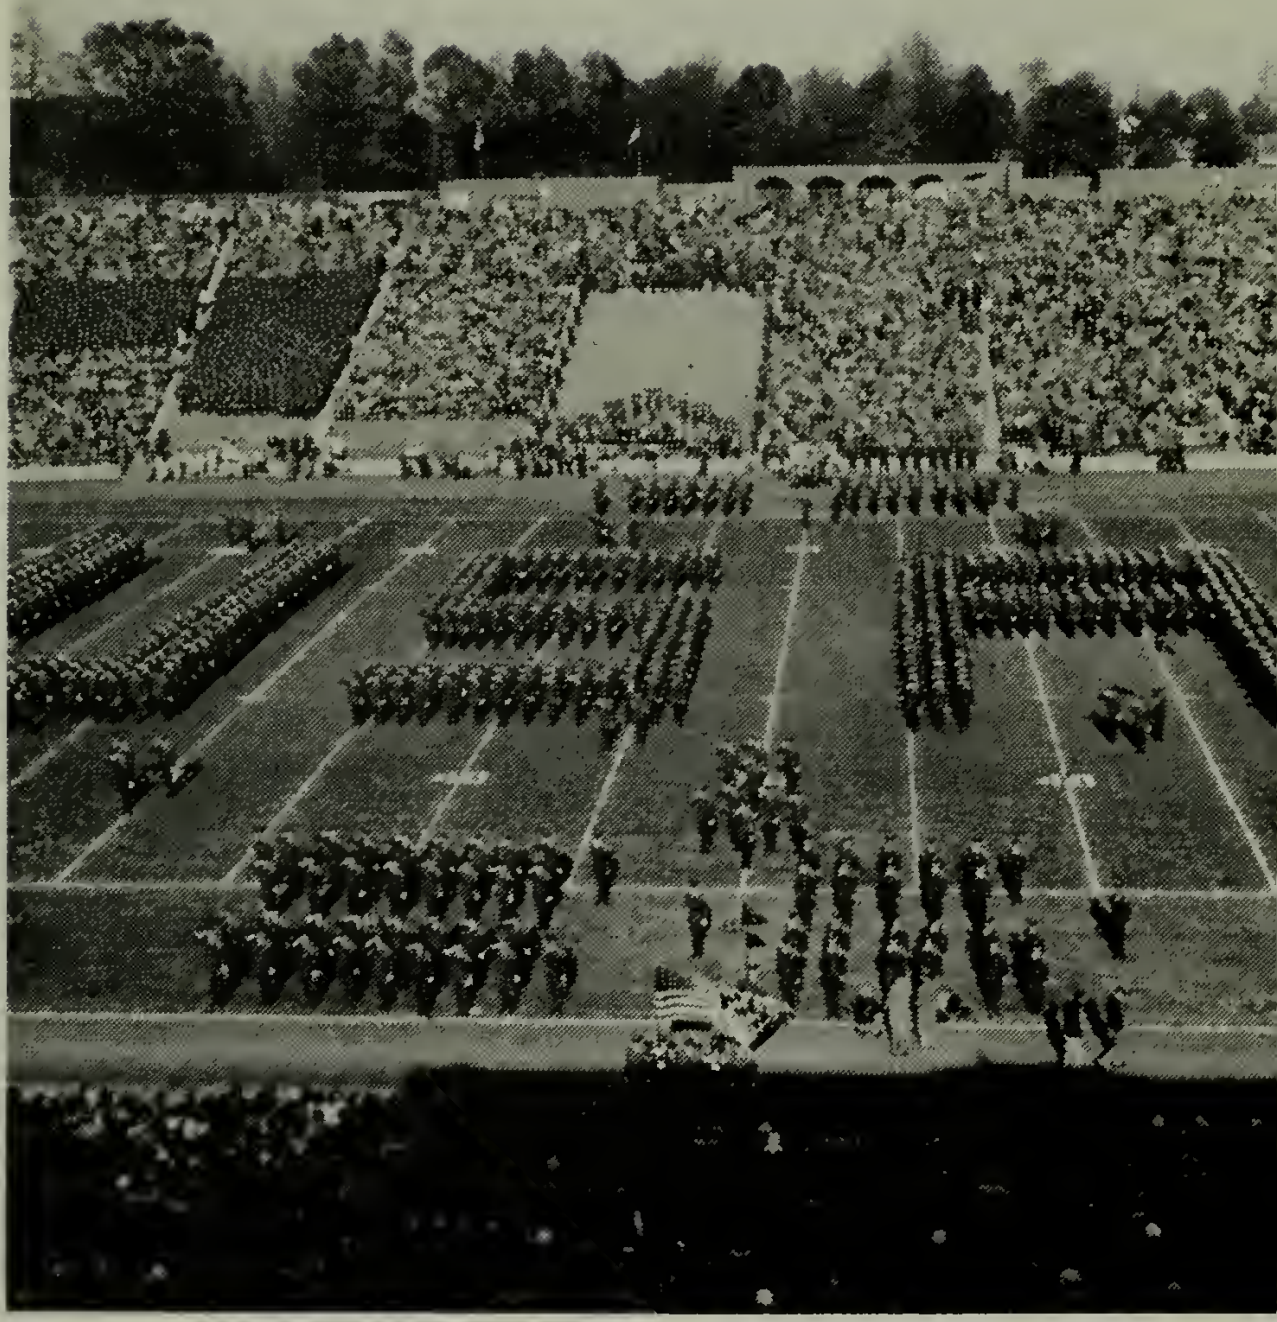
• ISA

Independent Student Association

President ..... Ed Reilly
Other officers to be elected in the fall.

ISA is the campus organization for all independent students, and was established to provide a low cost organization for those students who are not affiliated with social fraternities and sororities. It is coordinated with over 80 ISA chapters in large universities throughout the country. To achieve this, the group holds parties, picnics, other social functions throughout the year, as well as projects for the betterment of the students and the university. It also offers full participation in intramural sports, as well as representation in the Student Government and other campus-wide activities. It also produces the Maryland Independent, the ISA'ers weekly newspaper.

Meetings of the ISA are held every second and fourth Monday of the month at 7 p.m. All independent students are encouraged to attend.



• MILITARY

Officers and gentlemen—by Act of Congress . . . all coed classes 10 to 12 Tuesday and Thursday . . . Mall isn't muddiest; try the Drill field . . . Pershing rifles, brass buttons, Angel Flight . . . wings and Lieutenants' bars . . .

The AFROTC Program

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning, from mid-October to December and again in late spring, the green fields on either side of the Armory are covered by a blanket of blue . . . Air Force Blue . . . and drill begins again for the second largest Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps in the United States.

Drill is supplemented by instruction in classrooms. Basic ROTC, or the first two years, is required for every male student on campus, unless he is exempt by previous military service. Should a student enter as a transfer from another school and not have training in an ROTC unit, he must complete two years or take ROTC until graduation, whichever occurs first.

Third and fourth year programs may be elected after a careful screening, both mental and physical, by the governing board. Upon completion of the fourth year (basic plus advanced) training program, the student will become a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Reserve. ROTC is embodied with a separate headquarters in the Armory.

Colonel Robert E. Kendig is Professor of Air Science and commands the unit. Over forty regular Air Force personnel, who teach and who must keep detailed records on each cadet, compose Col. Kendig's staff.

Arnold Air Society

Commander ..... George A. Burch
Executive Officer ..... Joseph Zapotocky
Operations Officer ..... Charles G. Pettit, Jr.
Adjutant Recorder ..... William LaBanz
Comptroller ..... Carl English
Information Services Officer ..... John Eichler
Public Information Officer ..... Charles Corder
Faculty Advisor ..... Capt. Bernard Reilly

The Arnold Air Society is a military fraternal organization of elected membership of advanced cadets whose purpose is to develop leadership in future Air Force Officers and to create a more efficient relationship among the cadets.

The national organization of the Arnold Air Society, composed of more than 160 units, has recently affiliated with the Air Force Association.

Scabbard and Blade

Captain ..... Paul D. Fisher
First Lieutenant ..... Clayton P. Burton
Second Lieutenant ..... John A. Eichler
First Sergeant ..... William D. LaBanz
Faculty Advisor ..... Capt. Samuel Hammerman

Scabbard and Blade is the national military honor society for advanced cadets. Eligibility requirements are a 2.5 overall average and a 3.0 in Air Science.

The Vandenberg Guard

Officers are selected at the beginning of the fall semester.

Faculty Advisor ..... M/Sgt. Carroll W. Oliff

The Vandenberg Guard is a precision drill unit composed of selected volunteer basic cadets. The Guard now has a membership of sixty cadets, all equipped with sabres, who agree to drill a maxi mum of four hours weekly to achieve a desired goal. The well trained and drilled organization performs at many parades and other functions.

The Vandenberg Guard, originated by Col. Joseph R. Ambrose at the University of Maryland, was granted a signed charter by Mrs. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, widow of the late General Vandenberg, on June 12, 1955.

Pershing Rifles

Captain ..... Howard Turner
Executive Officer ..... Lawrence Larkin
Adjutant ..... James Quigley
Operations Officer ..... Mark Dunker
Trick Drill Officer ..... Howard Rebach
First Sergeant ..... Ronald Ellis
Advisor ..... Capt. Thomas Andrew

Pershing Rifles is an honor guard of basic cadets. The group has a precision drill team, which last year placed fourth among sixteen in regimental competition of companies in the area. Activities include field trips to nearby bases and flights around the country. Pershing Rifles is open to any interested freshman or sophomore.

AFROTC Band

Captain ..... William Froelich
Faculty Advisor ..... Capt. Peter Hamel

The Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps Band is composed of AFROTC cadets and is open to any cadet who plays a musical instrument. The band practices during drill periods and plays for drills and formations. Uniforms and instruments are furnished by the Federal Government.

Angel Flight

Air Division Commander ..... Sibyl Klak
Deputy Commander ..... Sanni Stack
First Wing Commander ..... Sally Tolson
Second Wing Commander ..... Carol Isaacson
Faculty Advisor ..... Lt. Col. Joseph Booth

The Angel Flight is a group of coeds selected by each AFROTC squadron to represent them in all AFROTC functions. The main duties of the Angel Flight are to boost the morale of the cadets, to serve as hostesses for visiting dignitaries, to sponsor the Air Force Ball in conjunction with the Arnold Air Society, and to help the cadets and the department in every activity.

SPORTS

Bill Cobey—

Director of Athletics

Athletics

Athletic competition, both intercollegiate and intramural, plays an important part in the college career of each student of the University. The variable sports program begins with the clash of helmets in September when the Terp eleven tackles with the nation's best, and ends when the last tape is broken in the track meets in May.

Maryland's facilities are almost unique. The swimming pool, tennis courts, the soon-to-be-completed golf course and the new Student Activities Building offer a wide selection of activities from which the student is certain of gaining a great amount of satisfaction and pleasure.

The basketball and wrestling teams literally live in this new Activities Building. The 12,000 seat structure is now the pride of the University.

In the past five years, Maryland has gained the reputation of producing winning teams. All that is needed to maintain this enviable association of Maryland and success in athletics is the support of each and every student taking an active interest in sports activities.

Football

Coach ..... Tommy Mont

Returning to Maryland last August, Coach Jim Tatum had the undesirable job of finding an entirely new backfield and a replacement for big John Irvine at center.

And, find them he did, in All-American center Bob Pellegrini and halfback Ed Vereb. Led by these two stars, both of whom played their best under pressure, the Terps went through the regular season undefeated and accepted an Orange Bowl bid to meet a great Oklahoma team. The Sooners ended the Terp's winning streak by a 20-6 score, after Maryland had gained a 6-0 half-time advantage.

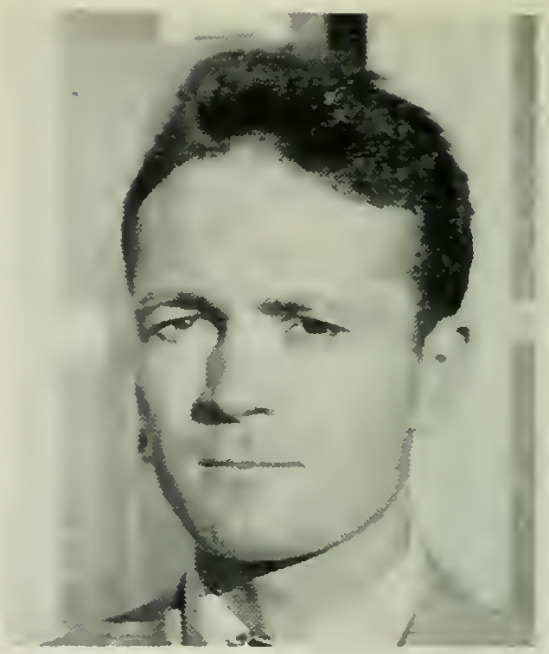
For the coming season, only the names and dates have changed, the problems remain virtually the same.

Coach Tommy Mont will inherit the perplexing task of filling the vacancies left by the graduation of Pellegrini, Vereb, and a fine crop of ends led by Bill Walker. Perhaps Gene Alderton will be able to fill the gap at center although this is asking quite a bit.

The backfield will be strengthened by the return of Tom Selep at fullback after a year's absence, and the dazzling breakaway running of John McVicker. John gave coach Mont reason to be optimistic by his play in the 19-12 loss to a star-studded Alumni team during the Alumni-Varsity game in April.

Tommy Mont has a tough job because Jim Tatum has produced a very impressive record, one which will be difficult to top. However, Mont has all the tools to produce a winning Maryland team.

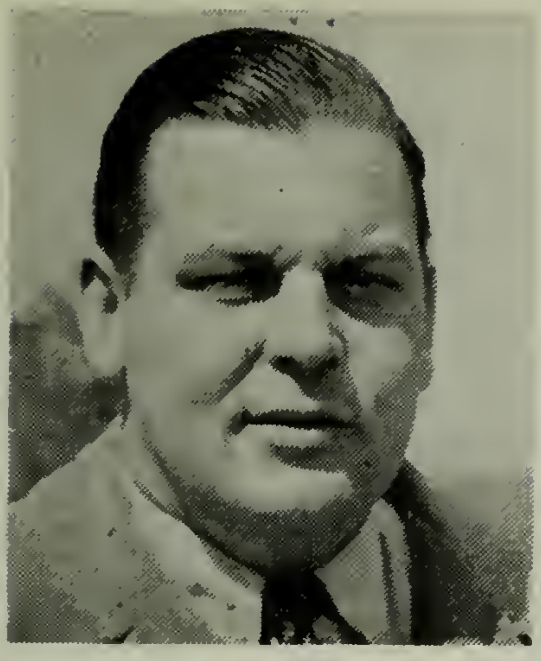
Soccer



Coach . . . . . Doyle P. Royal

On November 18 of last year, Maryland's Soccer team defeated Virginia 3-0. This victory gave the Terps the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and it marked the ninth straight year in which Coach Doyle Royal's booters have won the soccer crown. The string extends back to Maryland's days in the Southern Conference.

Royal will field another strong squad this year and might very well bring Maryland its tenth soccer crown in succession.



Wrestling

Coach ..... "Sully" Krouse

The University's matmen ended a successful 1955-56 season completely dominating the Atlantic Coast Conference wrestling championships held here in March. Terp wrestlers won seven of a possible ten titles.

Having last been beaten in conference competition in 1950, the Terp grapplers extended to 37 their number of consecutive conference victories.

Roney Carroll, captain of last year's squad and the only grappler leaving through graduation, was the lone Terp to go undefeated. Mike Sandusky and John McHugh, co-captains of this season's team tasted defeat but once, versus Penn State and Navy, respectively.

Basketball

Coach ..... Bud Millikan

Dumped into the second division last season by untimely thrashings administered by the Atlantic Coast Conference's "Big Four," the Maryland Basketball team faces an uphill and seemingly impossible struggle in its efforts to surge back among the elite this season. Last year's team posted a 14-10 record in a very tough conference.

Coach Bud Millikan has lost Bob Kessler and John Sandbower, standout performers from last year's quint, and still hasn't come up with a capable big man to do battle with the giants from Dixie.

Millikan, who never has had a losing team here, has based his success virtually all the way on his team's defense. However, it is likely he will switch to a running game to take full advantage of his material.

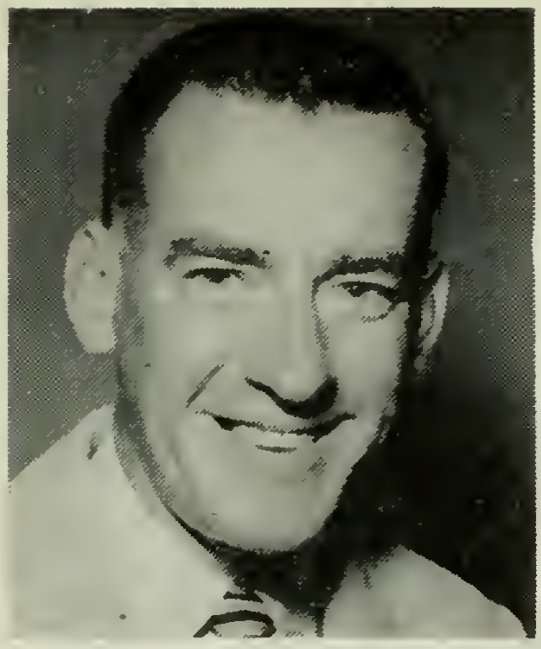
Bob O'Brien, a brilliant outside shot, and sensational courtman Nick Davis, will return to pace the Terps. Perry Moore and John Nacincik should improve and will see considerable action.

An attractive schedule and plenty of room in the mammoth field house should build the season up to one that will prove interesting and possibly very surprising.



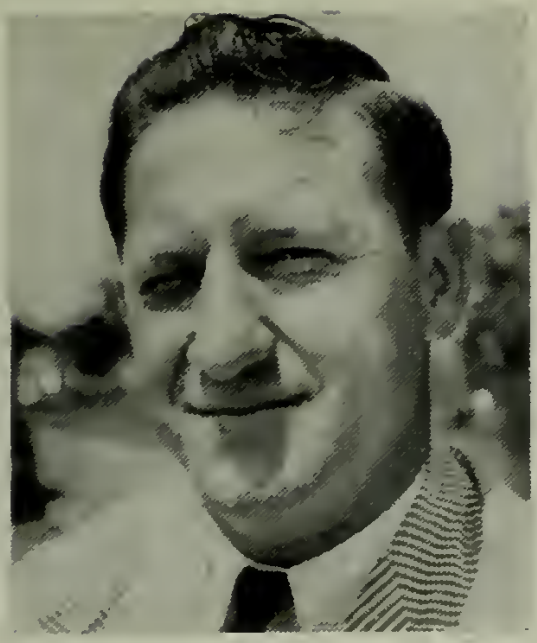
Track

Coach ..... Jim Kehoe

Track, unknown, uncared about and undernourished until a few years ago, suddenly has emerged as another kingpin in Maryland athletics. The Terps won Atlantic Coast Conference Championships in cross country and indoor and outdoor track.

Coach Jim Kehoe saw his cindermen roar through its opposition with relative ease last season, setting numerous records along the way. Depth proved to be the key factor in the drive which carried Maryland to all three track titles.

Burr Grim, greatest miler in Terrapin history, plus formidable performers in the middle distances and sprints will again be on hand, as will field stars George Hogan, Perry Moore and Ed Cook.



Golf

Coach ..... Frank Cronin

Maryland linksmen finished the 1955 season with a record of 5 wins and 9 losses; a 3-6 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference Play.

The Terps rallied to cop 3 of their last four matches after losing seven straight in the beginning of the season. In the last game of the year, the liners scored a 9-0 win over Johns Hopkins.

In the A. C. C. Championship, the Terps wound up seventh, with Wake Forest the winner. Jim DePiro was high man for Maryland with a 36-hole total of 155. Marty Parks was second at 158.

Baseball

Coach ..... Burton Shipley

The Liners barely fell below .500 last year as Coach Burton Shipley's boys kept fighting all the way.

Despite their 11-9 lost-won record, the Terps played some fine baseball, compiling four and three game winning skeins in the early weeks of the season. The Terp's record in their second year of Atlantic Coast Conference play was 6 wins and 7 losses.

The Terps lost four players to graduation; Bill Walker, Bob Weiss, Jim Hennessy and Gene Doane who have left the diamond at College Park in quest of bigger opponents.

Lacrosse

Coaches . . . . . Jack Faber
Al Heagy

Boasting the National Lacrosse Championship and four All-Americans, the Maryland Lacrosse team rolled to its second successive undefeated season.

Coached by Jack Faber and Al Heagy, the Terp ten ran roughshod over all opponents. The Red and White was led by Charlie "Wimp" Wicker, Jim Keating, John Simmone, and goalie Jim Kappler.

The season was climaxed with a 10-5 win over Navy. For the first time in the history of Naval Academy, 1100 Midshipmen came over to College Park as moral support. Maryland was superb that day and the Middies would have needed all 1100 on the field if they were to have beaten the peerless Terps.

Also playing prominent roles in the Maryland victories were Bud Waesche, Ernie Betz, Frank Tamburello and Jim Strott.

The offensive-minded Terrapins will slow down the action this spring to counteract their losses in manpower but the switch shouldn't bother them. The Terp ten should be the best in the nation again in 1957.

Rifle

Coach ..... M/Sgt. Carroll Oliff

Although Maryland's Varsity Rifle team didn't win any titles this year, it has been tabbed as a season of "rebuilding."

Linn Savage held up his end on the squad but most of the other shooters lacked actual game experience.

The brightest spot on the squad and most welcome addition was pert Maggie Guy, a brunette sharpshooter from Detroit, Michigan.

Tennis

Coach ..... Doyle Royal

Compiling an excellent spring season of eight wins and four losses, was Doyle Royal's Varsity Tennis Team. In the confines of the Atlantic Coast Conference, the squad posted a 4-3 mark.

Highlighted by number one singles man, junior Dave Freishtat, Bud Leightheiser, and Paul Ekel tied for the lead in singles wins, each having eight.

Intramurals

Maryland's Intramural Program, directed by Jim Kehoe, provides sports facilities for students unable to participate in varsity athletics. Assisted by the Intramural Council, made up of junior and senior physical education majors, Kehoe presents a diversified list of sports, divided into two programs—the open and fraternity leagues.

Touch football, basketball, softball, wrestling, gymnastics, golf, tennis, horse shoes, track, cross-country, bait casting, bowling, foul shooting, table tennis, badminton, volleyball and weight lifting make up the Intramural schedule.

Freshman Sports

Freshman teams are sponsored in almost every sport at Maryland. Playing a regular schedule of games, the Frosh Contests attract as much attention as some of the Varsity games. Individuals wishing to try out for a freshman team should watch the Diamondback for announcements of tryouts.

Varsity "M" Club

President ..... Beryle Cohen
Vice-President ..... Jack Healy
Secretary ..... Maggie Guy
Treasurer ..... Bob Hardiman
Social Chairman ..... Roney Carroll
Faculty Advisor ..... Dean Robert James

Membership in the club is open to all varsity lettermen. Meetings are held monthly on Thursday in the Student Activities Building. Present membership is approximately 100 which includes representatives from every team on campus.

Women's Recreation Association

President ..... Carolyn McVearry
Vice-President ..... Freda Martin
Secretary ..... Janet Curtiss
Treasurer ..... Judy Wilson
Faculty Advisor ..... Dr. Ellen Harvey

The purpose of WRA is to promote and supervise physical, social and recreational activities among University of Maryland coeds.

Throughout the year WRA sponsors various sport tournaments between the dorms and sororities. Cups are awarded to the victorious teams after the annual banquet at the close of the school year.

Each spring WRA awards the Participation Cup to the most deserving group. Meetings are monthly.

• SCHOOL SPIRIT

Terrapins in number . . . Stadium crowds . . . car caravans to meet winning or losing team at National Airport . . . cursing the mud to fraternity brother, but enumerating virtues of a college with a campus to Hopkins' friend . . . too enthusiastic pep rallies . . . all prove "Maryland Spirit" is in our hearts . . .

Maryland Spirit

It isn't very often that a Maryland student can lead an intelligent conversation after a football game in Byrd Stadium—he just hasn't got any voice to talk with.

Led by the cheerleaders at every home game, the Terp Town stands vibrate to a rousing crescendo throughout each play. Listen for the traditional chanting of the Victory Song and the Counting of points after every Terrapin score. Be prepared to join in or it won't be long until you can't help but add your voice to the chant.

Students not only join cheering sections at games but form car caravans to meet the team at National Airport on their return from away games, march in pre-game parades, and yell in pep and noise rallies as effigies of weekend opponents are burned in blazing bonfires.

Card Sections, sponsored by the Student Activities Committee, will be featured this year during both the football and basketball seasons. The sections will be filled by farsighted rooters who arrive early at games wearing white sweaters, shirts or blouses.

The most effective way to back the team and the cheerleaders is to learn the school songs and cheers. It will be hard to forget them after your first home game.

Cheerleaders

"Go — team — go!" Catchy cheers led by agile cheerleaders stimulate an eager crowd to urge its team to victory.

It looks simple but hours of hard work are behind the limber movements and precision timing of the cheerleaders. These spirited figures, in the red and white uniforms, are a familiar sight at pep rallies and all sports events. Tryouts, held in the fall, are open to all students who maintain a 2.0 average.

SAC is the nickname given to the organization which promotes ye ol' pep 'n school spirit on our campus. This group sponsors the pep rallies, the card section, away weekends for football and the other sports, and the two Terrapins seen romping on the football field during the games. SAC is formulating plans by which the student might become more interested in his college life.

Student representatives from sororities, fraternities, dorms, campus organizations and independent groups attend these meetings where "action at Maryland" is their motto!

The following are just a few of the many favorite Maryland Songs and Cheers:

VICTORY SONG

Maryland, we're all behind you,
Wave high the Black and Gold.
For there is nothing half so glorious
As to see our team victorious.
We've got the team, boys,
We've got the steam boys,
So keep on fighting, don't give in!
M-A-R-Y-L-A-N-D (yell)
Maryland will win!

TERRAPIN DRINKING SONG

Music by Wilmer Orpwood, Jr., '43
Words by A. Manley Powell, '41

Drink to the Terrapin!
All bold hearted men.
We have no fear of hell,
Fore we're loyal sons and fellows,
Drink to the Terrapin
May God bless her sons!
When the toast is in the cup,
Bottoms up! Bottoms up!
To Maryland.
